

March 31, 2009

Taikisha Relaunches Global Website

Taikisha has relaunched its global website with entirely new content.
(<http://www.taikisha-group.com/>)

We are introducing our diverse line of environmentally friendly technologies under the key concept that Green Technology is our mission.

As a globally networked company, we are also offering a detailed introduction of our overseas subsidiaries located throughout the world.

In addition to these, we have reorganized content relating to our business to ensure better accessibility and comprehensibility for site visitors.

We will continue to work on further improving the site and offering more content in the future.